Let me describe this "game". I started from the beginning at YOLO mode. I got a couple lines of dialogue like "wake up. The clown guy is coming" and then people walked across a bridge toward me forever. Literally forever. I thought, "well damn, if I keep hitting them up to 10,000, surely the game will progress." Then I thought, "Well, surely 20,000 would be enough." Nope. I just kept typing the words until I decided to unistall this POS. Loved the ideas. Love typing games. This isn't a game. It is a really boring version of typershark. Why would I need endless mode? This game is already endless. Such a disappointment.. I really don't like giving an "early access" game a negative review, but this game has been in early access mode for over a year now and nothing has been touched on it since it got its release. Seriously, nothing has been done on this game since it got here. I'm not sure if my game is different than other people's version of the game, but I only have "Endless Mode" on mine and it's totally worthless. For one, one of the achievements is supposed to become unlocked when you start the game. Apparently that's not true if you start "endless mode", because I've tried 5 times now and still no achievement. I have no idea what the other two are as they are hidden. Sure, you can pick the background color from a small list of options, and they all basically hurt your head after a while of staring at them. The worst one is the red background. For one, the background is red and the text is just a darker red. Have fun with that. The words listed in the game are more geared to a newbie learning the keyboard. No special characters, no punctuation, just basic lowercase words. There are other, much better, typing games out there. I can't justify spending $5 on what is essentially typershark with color.
